

THE PLAIN DEALER

Shoppers' Delight: New York tray, charger plants and doggie-doo picker-upper

By Julie Washington, The Plain Dealer

Follow on Twitter

on February 03, 2014 at 10:00 AM, updated February 03, 2014 at 10:06 AM Auggiedog promotes itself as a complete dog waste disposal system that requires no bending, is motor-driven, portable, self-cleaning and easy to use. The Auggiedog ($149.99) looks like a walking stick with a round cylinder bottom that houses the motor and a collection area. A telescoping handle adjusts the height, and the snap-on cap at the bottom of the unit locks in the waste until the dog owner releases it. The unit comes with a power charger and a foot-operated cleaning station that serves as an odor-free docking place for the device when not in use. Sanitize the Auggiedog by running it in the cleaning solution for several seconds and storing it in the cleaning station. It can be used on pavement, grass, gravel and wood chips.

