Computer America Show lineup for the week of December 9, 2013

Lineup for the week:

Monday

Hour one: Auggiedog is a recently introduced gadget that picks up dog waste with the click of the button! Talk about going High-Tech in the park or back yard! No hands need to go near the pet waste and no plastic bags need to go into a landfill. The device is self-cleaning so no smells come with the device either.
